Characterization of Organization

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left" which the Party has "going for us." At the June, 1965 SDS National Convention, an anti-communist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966 issue of "New Left Notes", the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of April 18, 1967 was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

2.

Today the trial of Dr. Benjamin Spock, Rev. William Sloane Coffin, Michael Ferber, Marcus Raskin and Mitchell Goodman begins in Boston.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

These five are charged with conspiring to "unlawfully, knowingly and wilfully counsel, aid and abet diverse Selective Service registrants to unlawfully, knowingly and wilfully neglect, fail, refuse and evade service in the armed forces of the United States..."

These five are part of a growing number of Americans who believe that the war in Vietnam is wrong and that the Selective Service System, which supplies bodies for the war, must be opposed.

Spock, Coffin and the other three did, indeed, counsel young men to obey their consciences, for a man's conscience is a higher authority than the laws of the state. These five did, indeed, aid young men who decided to refuse to register, to refuse induction or to return their draft cards in opposition to the war in Vietnam. These five counseled young men openly and with the full realization that they might be sentenced to five years in prison and/or a $10,000 fine.

We object to these five being singled out for prosecution. By indicting only five the U.S. government is attempting to intimidate the other thousands who have committed the same "crime".

To date over 25,000 Americans, including 500 in Philadelphia, have publicly stated that they will aid draft resisters. These members of Resist did so knowing that they too were subject to prosecution under the Selective Service Act.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

To date, 3,000 young men, including 85 in Philadelphia, have publicly broken with the Selective Service System. They have committed this act of non-cooperation knowing that they too are subject to five years in prison and/or a $10,000 fine.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

On April 3, thirty-two people in Philadelphia returned their draft cards in a public ceremony. Many of these draft cards were held in "escrow" with the hope that President Johnson's message of March 31 would bring a cessation of the war in Vietnam.

Instead we have seen an increase in the overall bombing in North Vietnam, the launching of operations "Resolve to Win" and "Complete Victory", an increase in draft calls for May, a record high of U.S. war deaths in the past week, and the recommissioning of the battleship New Jersey. Despite the talks in Paris, the war is far from over and many more Americans will be killed in Vietnam in the coming months.

Our response therefore must be to continue pressuring our government to deescalate and end U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

Today, several more young men will publicly return their draft cards. Today, the cards held in "escrow" will be sent to federal authorities.

We take these actions in support of the "Boston 5" and in opposition to the continuation of the war in Vietnam and the military draft.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Communists Behind Demonstrations

Why would 50,000 people participate in a march in London denouncing the Vietnam war? The British have long since pulled out of Asia militarily, and they haven't given the slightest indication of an intention to become involved in Vietnam.

What, then, is the reason? The answer is that the demonstration was unquestionably planned by representatives of the Communist party who have trained leaders in England ready to espouse any cause that the Moscow government may desire to have publicized. Most of the participants in the marches are themselves unaware of the Communist connection, but are persuaded by one means or another that they ought to demonstrate against the United States. The instigators, however, are for the most part financed by the Soviet government, and there are trained agitators in various countries throughout the world, especially in the United States and in Latin America.

In the annual report of the House Committee on Un-American Activities issued this month, Chairman Edwin E. Willis describes the Communist origin and manipulation of demonstrations in this country against the Vietnam war. He says that an assortment of Communists of both the Peking and Moscow varieties, fellow travelers, Marxists, radicals, pacifists and professional "peace" agitators have launched demonstrations. The purpose, of course, is to sabotage American efforts to support the South Vietnamese resistance to a Communist takeover of their country.

Willis points out that while honest, sincere and responsible dissent is legitimate, "the fact must be faced that there are persons who use the claim and mask of dissent for no other reason than to try to conceal the fact that their allegiance is to a power other than that of the United States." He summarizes the situation as follows:

"Deliberate deception, methodically employed to advance the world Communist movement is not dissent, but conspiracy."

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover testified before the committee, moreover, that "Students for a Democratic Society"—which claims to be the largest of the "New Left" student organizations, with more than 140 chapters—is one of the most militant of the student-youth groups engaged in activities protesting U.S. foreign policies. Communists, he said, are "actively promoting and participating in" the programs of the Students for a Democratic Society. There are indications that some of the groups are even working at a high-school level.

The techniques of the Communists in stimulating student demonstrations throughout the world are well known to officials in the American government and to members of Congress. The Department of Justice is aware of the record of some of the leaders active in this country. Many of them openly acknowledge that they are Communists. Others conceal any connections with the party, but meet often with Communist leaders.

Anybody can organize a political party in America and preach a cause that is unpopular and even contrary to the policies of the United States. But if the leaders of any such group participate in conferences with representatives of foreign governments or receive compensation or other rewards for themselves or for the expense of "demonstrations," this could be defined as a conspiracy against the United States.

The late Judge Michael A. Musmanno, for 16 years a member of the Supreme Court of the state of Pennsylvania, testified before the House committee that, under some court decisions, the Communists have been able to turn the Fifth Amendment into a "fifth column marching against the security of the nation."

Certainly there is need for legislation, as recommended by the committee, to strengthen the laws against conspiracy and particularly to prohibit any relationship between demonstrators in this country and a foreign power. There have been virtually no prosecutions against Communists who are citizens of the United States but who take orders from a foreign government. Yet their activities are designed to impair or break down the foreign policy of the United States.

REPULSED: Attack on American Embassy by Maoist group in London being prevented yesterday by London policemen.

ton Double Breasted Shaped Suit
 bilared The American Way with Wool®

British Columbia, Oct. 26—In a purely the Government called symbolic of a new era in political relationships between Canada's 20 million whites and 231,000 Indians, representatives of both groups held a four-day meeting here this week.

It was one of 16 "consultations" the Department of Indian Affairs on Northern Development is sponsoring from the Yukon to New Brunswick to learn Indians' views on suggested changes in the Indian Act. The act defines who is an Indian, and thus eligible to live on Indian reserves, and regulates the use of such land.

That Indians are being consulted on how they should be governed is itself novel, as the Liberal Government acknowledges.

"The politics of the old order, that day is gone—fast going, anyway," Robert Andras, a minister without portfolio in charge of the consultation, recently told the Indian-Eskimo Association in Toronto.

The consultation seemed to be producing an intense wave of protest about and public discussion of the way Canada's native peoples are treated by the white man's government. In Alberta, young Indians whom The Edmonton Journal described as "militants" have formed a Protest Alliance Against Native Extermination.

Robert Smallboy, the 67-year-old chief of the Ermineskin band of Cree Indians, has led some of his handsmen off their reserve to escape what he called degrading living conditions.

In Ontario, a federal-provincial dispute over who should provide schooling for squatter Indians near Armstrong boiled up as a front-page issue.

many of the problems that will confront the next American President.

Plans for the five-day seminar on "The United States—Its Problems, Impact and Image in the World" will be announced tomorrow here and in Paris by Shepard Stone, president of the International Association for Cultural Freedom. The association is a private organization of scholars, writers and men of public affairs that is receiving financial support from the Ford Foundation.

Dr. Carl Kayser, director of the Institute for Advanced Studies, and Jean-Jacques Servan-Schreiber, publisher of the French weekly, L'Express, and author of the best-selling book "The American Challenge," will be co-chairmen of the conference.

Social Scholars to Attend

"We timed the symposium to take place at a highly significant point in U.S. affairs, between the Presidential election and the inauguration," Mr. Stone said in an interview here a few days ago.

"We hope that the incoming administration will be represented at the meeting as we shall gather some of the most articulate and influential critics and advocates of American policy."

Mr. Stone, tall and silver haired is a former journalist and a former executive of the Ford Foundation.

He said that two Soviet scholars had accepted invitations to the meeting. They are Anatoly A. Gromyko, the son of Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and a member of the United States of America, and Stanislav Menschikov, director of the Institute of World Economy. Both institutes are in feet thick, 10 feet wide, 5 feet high. The stone, set in a three-acre meadow, was dedicated on May 14, 1965, by Queen Elizabeth and the President's widow. The tablet bears the inscription:

"This acre of English ground was given to the United States of America by the people of Britain in memory of John F. Kennedy, President of the United States 1961-63, died by an assassin's hand, 22 November 1963."

It also contains the following words of the late President:

"Let every nation know whether it wishes us well or ill that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend or oppose any foe in order to assure the survival and success of liberty."

The demonstration, beginning at 2 P.M., wound past many of the familiar tourist landmarks of historic London.

It began at Charing Cross, went east along the Victoria Embankment to Blackfriars, then up to Fleet Street and back west along Fleet Street and the Strand to Trafalgar Square, on along Whitehall to Parliament Square and finally to Hyde Park.

March on Embassy

But a proclaimed group of supporters of Chairman Mao Tse-tung of the Chinese Communist Party, split off at Trafalgar Square and marched on to the United States Embassy in Grosvenor Square. There were perhaps 2,000, with 4,000 more sympathizers or spectators waiting in the square.

Scotland Yard, expecting trouble in Grosvenor Square, had 1,000 uniformed men there. They kept the whole grassy center of the huge square clear and they blocked off the entire west end—where the embassy sits under its huge eagle.

The demonstrators marched in by the northeast corner and, given time, around to the southwest. There, the only exit was left, a narrow South Audley Street. To the right, blocked by the police, was the embassy—a few of its officials peering out of shutter-story windows.

For an hour or more, the demonstrators waited in Grosvenor Square, listening to speeches not helpdrawing the contrast between the Chicago police and demonstrators at the Democratic convention in August. The militants who tried to break through to the embassy were obviously furious at the thousands of other marchers and spectators who did not join them. They began yelling "Why did you come, to see a western?"

"What's wrong, you got weak knees?" "If you don't believe in violence, why did you come?" The days' activities were on the whole notably nonviolent, even cheerful. There were only 35 arrests, most of them for possession of knives, our injured policemen were taken to the hospital. By contrast, at a demonstration in Grosvenor Square last March, more than 150 people were injured and 246 arrested. That one caught the police unprepared. The police estimated the total burning incident: "No number of marchers at 20,000 to 30,000. The leader of the day's activities, Tariq Ali, a young Pakistani resident in Britain, put it at nearly 100,000. An impartial guess was 50,000. The marchers carried pictures of Chairman Mao, Che Guevara, Stalin and John Lennon of the Beatles. Their placards had a wide range of subject matter. These were some, "Defeat U.S. imperialism," "Victory to the N.I.F." "Recognize Biafra." "Maltese Workers Unite." "Dadaism: National Lunacy Front." "West Ham Anarchists." "Nothing Hill Red Guard." "Freeze Rents, Not Wages." "Support the Greek Resistance."

Most Are Young People Most of the marchers were young, and the overwhelming majority men. The older figures recognized in the crowd were Stephen Spender, the poet and critic, and Kenneth Tynan, critic and official of the National Theater. There were more policemen visible than anyone could readily recall in this country. Security advisers had seriously worried about an attempt to burn buildings on Whitehall. At Downing Street some militant demonstrators threw firecrackers over the massed police. They also burned a Union Jack. A policeman quietly munched a sandwich in the background remarked on the burning incident: "No the old and new parties will not stand up," Mr. Bachmann told the conference today. He said that the new party would work within the framework of the Bonn Government's constitution. However, judging from the Sept. 26 manifesto and from speeches today, it appeared that the new party would closely follow the Moscow party line and the line of Walter Ulbricht, head of the East German Communist regime.

mann called for recognition of East Germany's Communist regime and its borders and the admission of both East and West Germany to the United Nations. Two committees were appointed to draw up a party program and plans for a full convention expected next February. The party, Mr. Bachmann said, has 9,084 members. The Bonn Government is studying the legality of the new party.

CLERGY AND LAYMEN CONCERNED ABOUT VIETNAM
INFORMATION CONCERNING - MISCELLANEOUS

RUDOLPH "CORKY" GONZALES
INTERNAL SECURITY - SPANISH-AMERICAN

On October 24, 1968, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that "Corky" Gonzales was one of several members of a delegation making a trip to Paris, France and Stockholm, Sweden, under the sponsorship of the Clergy and Laymen Concerned About Vietnam. This delegation departed New York City aboard an Air France flight and the purpose of their trip was to make contact with American military deserters and draft evaders living in Paris and Stockholm.

It was reported by a second confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, that the purpose of the group's trip in contacting American deserters and draft resisters was to ascertain their feelings on organizing some sort of amnesty drive in the United States so that they could return to the United States without fear of reprisal.

Rudolph "Corky" Gonzales is a well known individual at Denver, Colorado, who has been active in movements involving the Mexican-American population at Denver. Gonzales is the leader of the organization known as the Crusade for Justice, which has its headquarters at 1567 Downing Street, Denver, Colorado.

Re: CLERGY AND LAYMEN CONCERNED ABOUT VIETNAM

Re Crusade for Justice:

The Crusade for Justice is a national civil rights organization that has been created for and by the people. The movement was born out of frustration and determination to secure equality with dignity for the Mexican-American and Spanish-named people of the City of Denver, the State of Colorado, and the entire Southwest. The Crusade for Justice has stimulated action, has involved heavy participation in all community affairs, has inspired new pride and confidence, and has motivated and encouraged leadership and organization in our community.

Crusade for Justice leaflet Provided January 25, 1967, by a third confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past.

On the occasion of an interview by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation with Rudolph Gonzales on October 8, 1968, Gonzales advised that he is now 40 years of age and receives no income as leader of the Crusade for Justice, but obtains some financial support through weekly lectures he gives at the University of Colorado. He stated he is relatively independent financially as a result of his earnings as a former professional boxer and through income as the owner of a bar, which he has since sold.

Mr. Gonzales stated that the Crusade for Justice is a nationalistic organization which has as its primary purpose the elimination of the historical and psychological dependence of the Mexican-American on the Anglo-American in the United States. Mr. Gonzales stated the Mexican-American has been the victim of discrimination by virtue of his Mexican name and the victim of police oppression by virtue of his residence in a Mexican ghetto. He claimed that the Mexican-American is the victim of inequity in the matter of military service, alleging that while Mexican-Americans represent only 3% of the U. S. population, their numbers and casualties in Vietnam are much greater than this proportionately.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

Re: CLERGY AND LAYMEN CONCERNED ABOUT VIETNAM

Gonzales alleged further that the United States is involved in the Vietnam War through the influence and for the profit of "Anglo-controlled" corporations, and that the policies of the U. S. Government continue to deprive the poverty classes which bear the brunt of military service, in Vietnam.

Gonzales advised that he and another Mexican-American named [redacted] from the State of New Mexico, led the Mexican-American contingent in the Poor People's Campaign which took place in Washington, D.C. in June, 1968. He stated he had been to Washington, D.C. in September, 1968, for the purpose of establishing a "Poor People's Embassy" to represent the poor in the United States. He said this Embassy has not yet materialized, but a woman in Washington, D.C., who had given the use of her home to Tijerina during the Poor People's Campaign, has indicated she will make this home available for the Embassy.

A characterization of the Alianza Federal De Mercedes appears as an appendix attached hereto.

Mr. Gonzales, during the interview on October 8, 1968, commented that the takeover of Cuba by Fidel Castro was a natural result of U. S. capitalistic interests. He explained that the United States broke off relations with Castro after the latter had nationalized American holdings in Cuba, whereas Castro was justified because for many years the United States had been draining the wealth from Cuba. He stated he was not sympathetic to Cuban refugees who have arrived in Denver because he considers them to be of the middle class who have had "some fat cut from their side" which they did not share with the poor people in Cuba in past years.

On November 2, 1968, a Special Agent of the FBI observed a protest rally held on the steps of the Colorado State Capitol Building at Denver, Colorado. Among the speakers at this rally were Rudolph "Corky" Gonzales, [redacted]

Gonzales, [] were all critical in their speeches of the present Government administration and of the U. S. involvement in the Vietnam War, charging the United States with the use of gas and napalm. During their talks Gonzales and [] leveled criticism at the Denver Police Department and the Denver District Attorney. Gonzales also alleged that the United States was preparing to use napalm in Bolivia and Venezuela.

The November 10, 1968, edition of the "Denver Post," a daily newspaper published at Denver, Colorado, carried an article concerning a demonstration by the National Floral Workers Organization (NFWO) against the Kitayama Brothers Greenhouses at Brighton, Colorado, on November 9, 1968. The NFWO is attempting to unionize the Kitayama Greenhouses but this movement has been resisted by the owners, who produce carnation flowers on a commercial basis.

The "Denver Post" article reported that the demonstration drew students from several universities in Colorado and also members of the Crusade for Justice, the Black Panthers, and the Students for a Democratic Society.

A characterization of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) appears as an appendix hereto.

It was reported that the President of the NFWO appealed to the Kitayamas to make an appearance before the protestors. The newspaper report stated that when Kitayama made no response to this plea, Rodolfo "Corky" Gonzales, leader of the Crusade for Justice, took the bullhorn and threatened that the crowd would "go through the greenhouses" if Kitayama did not come out. Trouble was averted when it was suggested that the President of the NFWO should decide on the action to be taken.

The November 11, 1968, edition of the "Denver Post" carried a follow-up article concerning the demonstration against the Kitayama Brothers Greenhouses in which it was stated that Gonzales had denied that he had attempted to provoke a "walk through the greenhouses." Gonzales told the "Denver Post" representative that he did say the strikers and their supporters might go further "next time" than they did Saturday. Other witnesses contacted by the "Denver Post" stated that the threat had been made by a University of Colorado student who took part in the demonstration as a member of the SDS.

also known as Federal Alliance of Free States
(Alianza Federal de Pueblos Libres)

On October 8, 1963, the Alianza Federal de Mercedes (Federal Alliance of Spanish Land Grant Heirs) (AFDM) filed Articles of Incorporation in New Mexico. Its stated purpose was to organize and acquaint the heirs of all the Spanish Land Grants covered by the Treaty of Guadalupe - Hidalgo. [REDACTED]

An article in the May 26, 1967, issue of the "Albuquerque Journal," a daily newspaper published at Albuquerque, New Mexico, quoted [REDACTED] as stating that his entire staff of AFDM had resigned as of April 29, 1967, indicating the AFDM would be replaced by a "Political Confederation of Free City States."

The "Albuquerque Journal", August 20, 1967, issue, on page 1 carried an article stating that at a meeting of the AFDM at Albuquerque on August 19, 1967, the name of the organization was changed to "Federal Alliance of Free City States," (FAFCS), (Alianza Federal de Pueblos Libres).

The "Albuquerque Journal" on October 17, 1966, in an article datelined at Abiquiu, New Mexico, related that a group called the Federal Alliance of Land Grant (Heirs) had staked out a new "republic" of the Pueblo San Joaquin del Rio de Chama in Northern New Mexico, elected a town marshal, mayor, and sheriff and fifty armed men were deputized and dared authorities to move them out.

[REDACTED] Criminal Investigator, U. S. Forest Service, Albuquerque, on October 22, 1966, advised that he had observed individuals who had identified themselves as members of the FAFCS seize two Forest Service employees and two Forest Service pickup trucks.

The records of the U. S. District Court, Albuquerque, reflect that five of these individuals, including [REDACTED] [redacted] were arrested on October 26, 1966, charged with assaulting a Federal officer and conversion of Government property. On November 11, 1967, [redacted] and other defendants were found guilty.

The June 6, 1967, issue of the "Albuquerque Journal," datelined at Tierra Amarilla, New Mexico, stated that on June 5, 1967, members of the AFDM had "blasted" their way into the Tierra Amarilla Courthouse where members of AFDM were being arraigned on state charges, wounding a state policeman and the jailer by gunfire and taking a deputy sheriff and a news reporter as hostages.

On October 18, 1967, [redacted] Criminal Investigator, New Mexico State Police, Albuquerque, advised that [redacted] and some members of the FAFCS met at Canjilon, New Mexico, on June 5, 1967. On that same date, this group went to Rio Arriba County Courthouse at Tierra Amarilla for the purpose of taking the members of FAFCS who had been arrested on June 2, 1967, on charges of assembling to do an unlawful act with force and violence, away from the New Mexico state officials and the taking of New Mexico State District Attorney as a prisoner. At Tierra Amarilla they forcibly held individuals as hostages, shot and wounded a New Mexico state policeman, and a deputy sheriff of Rio Arriba County and kidnaped another deputy sheriff and one [redacted] a news reporter.

Records of the First Judicial District, State of New Mexico, at Santa Fe, New Mexico, as of January 4, 1968, reflect that 20 individuals, including [redacted] have been charged in State Court on various counts of kidnaping and assault with intent to commit felonies.

On October 18, 1967, a source advised that [redacted] of Santa Fe, New Mexico, claims she has been assisting [redacted] and the Federal Alliance of Free City States, formerly known as Alianza Federal de Mercedes, in their activities. [redacted] states she is acting as an advisor to [redacted] and claims him as her protege. [redacted] are described as individualists and opportunists and they are both trying to use the other one to further their own objectives. [redacted] undoubtedly would accept assistance and counsel from [redacted] but [redacted] is not controlled by [redacted] and/or any other individual.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY, aka
Black Panther Party for Self Defense

A source advised that the Black Panther Party for Self Defense (BPPSD) was formed by HUEY PERCY NEWTON, Minister of Defense, and BOBBY GEORGE SEALE, Chairman, in December, 1966, as a militant black nationalist political organization to combat "police brutality," to unite militant black youth, and to determine the destiny of black communities. The political philosophy was taken from writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of Communist China and black militant writers.

In March, 1968, the name of the organization was changed to Black Panther Party (BPP).

b6

The official BPP publication, "The Black Panther Party - Black Community News Service," states that the BPP advocates use of guns and guerrilla tactics in their violent revolutionary program to end oppression of black people.

On February 17, 1968, [redacted] announced merger of the BPP and Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) and bestowed title of [redacted] BPP, upon [redacted]

SNCC is a militant Negro organization which preaches black supremacy.

NEWTON, aforementioned, is incarcerated in the Alameda County Jail, Oakland, California, awaiting trial on charge of murder of an Oakland police officer.

On Sunday, September 8, 1968, at 10:10 P.M., the jury returned a verdict of finding HUEY PERCY NEWTON guilty of voluntary manslaughter in the killing of police officer JOHN FREY of the Oakland Police Department on October 28, 1967.

The Alameda County Superior Court, Oakland, set the date for sentencing for September 27, 1968. Attorneys for NEWTON have indicated they will file a notice for an appeal.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft; promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam, and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left" which the Party has "going for us." At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anti-communist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966, issue of "New Left Notes," the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of July 24, 1968, was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

ENCLOSURE

Clergy and Laymen Concerned
About Vietnam
Richard John Neuhaus

"The clergymen had demanded an integration timetable for the city schools.

"They were arrested February 10, 1965, for failure to leave Board of Education headquarters and arraigned before Criminal Court Judge Edward D. Calzo and released in their own custody.

"Among those arrested was Reverend J. Neuhaus, Chairman, Lutheran Human Relations Association."

"The January 25, 1966 edition of 'The Worker' on page 3, contains the following article entitled, 'New York Clergy to Meet January 30 on Concern about Vietnam'.

"The Clergy Concerned about Vietnam has called an emergency meeting of all Christian and Jewish leaders in the New York area on January 30 at 7:00 p.m. at Marymount Manhattan College, 221 East 71st Street. The meeting will be chaired by Pastor Richard John Neuhaus."

"The Worker" is a former East Coast Communist newspaper which has ceased publication.

"The New York Times", Late City Edition, October 26, 1967, on page 10, contains the following article, "18 Clerics Back Draft Resisters - Pledge to Risk Fine or Jail to Aid Right of Conscience".

"Detroit - October 25 - 18 Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish leaders pledged today to risk fine or imprisonment to assist those who resist the military draft on the ground of conscience.

"They were joined by about 50 delegates to the United States conference on church and society and the commitment to 'keep faith with those who refuse to surrender their conscience to the State'.

Clergy and Laymen Concerned
About Vietnam
Richard John Neuhaus

"The pledge was contained in a statement issued here by the Clergy and Laymen Concerned about Vietnam, an interfaith group formed two years ago to protest American policy in Vietnam. The signers emphasized that they were acting only as individuals.

"The statement quoted the section of the Selective Service Act that states that anyone 'who knowingly counsels, aids or abets another to refuse or evade registration or service in the Armed Forces shall be liable to imprisonment for not more than 5 years or a fine of $10,000 or both'.

"It continued: We hereby possibly counsel all who in conscience cannot today serve in the Armed Forces to refuse such service by non-violent means.

"We pledge ourselves to aid and abet them in any way we can. This means that if they are now arrested for failing to comply with a law that violates their consciences, we too must be arrested, for in the sight of the law we are now as guilty as they.

"Among the signers was the Reverend Richard Neuhaus."

"The New York Times" issue of December 5, 1967, Late City Edition, on page 24, contained the following article entitled, "Week of Protest Against the Draft Stated by Anti-War Groups".

"Some 400 students, hippies, and middle-aged opponents of the draft and the Vietnam war journeyed to a small Lutheran Church in the Bushwick Section of Brooklyn,

"There in the Church of Saint John the Evangelist, 195 Maujer Street, Clergy of the Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Jewish faiths condemned the Vietnamese war as 'futile, horrifying,' and 'immoral', and applauded the youths who, by dropping their draft cards in the collection plates here risking 10 years in jail and $5,000 fines.

Clergy and Laymen Concerned
About Vietnam
Richard John Neuhaus

"The pastor, the Reverend Richard Neuhaus, who said he had turned in his own draft card at a previous rally, told newsmen that unless the government chose to 'make a mockery out of the Selective Service law' it would have to prosecute those who turned in their draft cards which would be mailed to the Justice Department and those who signed 'complicity cards'."

Chicago Police Department Arrest Report under RD Number 2569541, reflects that Richard J. Neuhaus was arrested on August 29, 1968, for disorderly conduct, specifically, failure to obey a lawful police order. Neuhaus was arrested during mass demonstrations in connection with the Democratic National Convention.

On September 19, 1968, Reverend Richard John Neuhaus was interviewed by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. During this interview, Reverend Neuhaus advised that he was an official delegate to the Democratic National Convention, representing the 14th Congressional District, Brooklyn, New York. On Thursday evening, August 29, 1968, he stated that he led a group of 26 delegates on a proposed walk from the Conrad Hilton Chicago to the amphitheater.

During this walk, they were barred by the Illinois National Guard and the Chicago Police Department from continuing the walk to the amphitheater. In defiance of the police barricades, Neuhaus stated that he attempted to continue and was at that point arrested. Neuhaus stated that the atmosphere of fear and tension coupled with reports of confrontations by the police led him and some of the other delegates to decide that they had to demonstrate their opposition to the tactics employed by the Chicago police.

EDWIN JANSS, JR.

Janss Investment Corporation has a long history of successful operation with one of it's earliest and most successful major developments being the residential-business community of Westwood Village, a Los Angeles suburb, populated by numerous fashionable shops and better priced homes adjoining the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA). The firm's main activities are primarily in large scale real estate development activities.

Source two on June 9, 1964, advised that the name of Edwin Janss, Jr. appeared on a leaflet which was distributed at the Annual Awards and Installation Luncheon of the Women for Legislative Action (See Appendix) on June 6, 1964, at the Beverly Hilton Hotel, Beverly Hills, California. The booklet was entitled "The Facts About the Real Estate Lobby's Ballot Proposition" and dealt with the Fair Housing Proposition which was on the California ballot at that time. It is not known if the individual referred to in the above leaflet is identical to captioned Edwin Janss, Jr.

The third source on April 13, 1954, advised that in 1935 he was in Russia and while riding on a train between Moscow and Leningrad, Russia, met two persons who he later identified as a Mr. and Mrs. Janss, owner of Janss Realty Company, Los Angeles, California. Source advised that the Janss Realty Company was believed to be quite large and financially well to do. Source three in 1954, recalled he also met the same Mr. and Mrs. Janss who were retired at that time and in their 70's or 80's in Vienna, Austria. He stated that he believed the Janss's were of Vienesese background with Mr. Janss being a former member of the Austrian Calvalry. It is not known if Mr. and Mrs. Janss referred to above are identical to Edwin Janss, Jr.'s parents.

WOMEN FOR LEGISLATIVE ACTION

A source advised on May 1, 1963, that the Women for Legislative Action was formed in 1952, claiming to be an independent organization dedicated to non-partisan participation in legislative and civic activities. Its position in favoring or opposing legislation usually parallels the position of the Communist Party and related groups. It also supports legislation to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Membership in the Women for Legislative Action does not, of itself, connote membership in or sympathy with the Communist Party.

Another source advised on May 8, 1968, that the Women for Legislative Action continues to be active in the Los Angeles area.

On October 21, 1968, a source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that the National Mobilization Committee To End The War In Vietnam (NMC) will send a delegation to Sweden to contact the American military deserters, who are living in that country. The purpose of a contact is to formulate plans to begin an amnesty drive to return these deserters to the United States without fear of prosecution. The amnesty drive on the part of the NMC is being undertaken because of the harassment by the Swedish Government. STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. GUS HALL, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left" which the Party has "going for us." At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anti-Communist proviso was removed from the SDS Constitution. In the October 7, 1966, issue of "New Left Notes," the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some Communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of April 18, 1967, was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

STUDENT NONVIOLENT COORDINATING COMMITTEE

Literature distributed by the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), headquartered at 360-362 Nelson Street, S.W., Atlanta, Georgia, describes itself as not being a membership organization, but rather an agency attempting to stimulate and foster the growth of local protest movements. SNCC was born out of the sit-in movement which erupted across the South beginning on February 1, 1960. A conference at Raleigh, North Carolina, that Spring, brought together many of the demonstrating Southern students in a loose network of militant youth which was officially named SNCC in October, 1960.

A source has advised that in May, 1966, STOKELY CARMICHAEL was elected National Chairman by the Central Committee. In May, 1967, CARMICHAEL [redacted] with CARMICHAEL assuming the position of Recruiter and Organizer for the SNCC. In August, 1967, at the invitation of FIDEL CASTRO, CARMICHAEL participated in the Organization of Latin American Solidarity Conference which was held in Havana, Cuba. Subsequent thereto, CARMICHAEL traveled to Hanoi and other sections of North Vietnam. He returned to the United States in December, 1967, at which time his passport was picked up because of travel to unauthorized countries.

A source advised that when CARMICHAEL was elected Chairman of SNCC, the organization embarked on a program of eliminating Caucasians from its ranks. [redacted]

[redacted] it embarked on a world-wide struggle for human rights and to take a firm stand against violations of these rights by the American Government and to strengthen its programs of opposition to the draft and to the United States involvement in Vietnam.

Literature distributed in February, 1968, identifies SNCC as an organization in the revolutionary vanguard. It advocates that to be successful it is necessary to develop a revolutionary ideology and revolutionary program.

On August 13, 1967, while addressing a group in the Watts area of Los Angeles, California, H. RAP BROWN said "You better shape up America, or we'll burn you down." Later in February, 1968, in a publicized note BROWN wrote, "America, if it takes my death to organize my people to revolt against you and to organize your jails to revolt against you and to organize your children, your God, your poor, your country, and to organize mankind to rejoice in your destruction and ruin, then here's my life"

Passport Number [redacted] was issued to [redacted]
[redacted] on June 15, 1965, and was valid for three years' travel to all countries except Albania, Cuba and those portions of China, Korea and Vietnam under communist control. However, the application for this passport cannot be located in the files of the Passport Office, United States Department of State.

A representative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on November 21, 1968, determined that the above passport was renewed on June 14, 1968, at San Francisco, California, to be valid until June 14, 1970, for a two-week trip to Cuba, Italy, Mexico and France, for the purpose of visiting Cuba (with State Department permission). A check with the Domestic Operations Division, Passport Office, disclosed that his passport had been validated on June 7, 1968, for one round trip to Cuba, not to extend beyond August 31, 1968, for scholarly reasons. He indicated that he planned to leave from San Francisco on June 19, 1968, via Western Airlines and that he expected to take another trip abroad within two years.

He stated that he was born on [redacted] at New York, New York, and listed his permanent residence as [redacted] San Francisco, California. His passport was to be mailed to him at [redacted] University of California, Berkeley. It was requested that his wife, [redacted] at the San Francisco address, be notified in the event of death or accident.

The Bureau, by routing slip, furnished a memorandum from the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Security, Department of State, which was classified secret and captioned, "BEHEIREN'S UNDERGROUND ORGANIZATION FOR AMERICAN SERVICEMEN DESERTERS AND ITS INTERNATIONAL CONNECTIONS." This memorandum contains the following information concerning [redacted] (S)

The [redacted] Case: The [redacted] case was Beheiren's first big effort with U. S. military deserters, after the INTREPID Four. This was handled for Beheiren exclusively by [redacted] and his Technical Committee. U. S. Army PFC [redacted] born in Korea as [redacted] but raised in the U. S. by foster parents, came to Japan in April, 1967, on R & R from Vietnam. He then went AWOL and sought asylum in the Cuban Embassy in Tokyo. During his nine months in the Cuban Embassy, he achieved a great deal of newspaper attention in Japan. [redacted] actually left his asylum in the Cuban Embassy twice while seeking to find a way out of Japan. The first time was in late 1967, when he contacted JCP Headquarters, only to be told that the JCP could not arrange his onward travel. He then contacted the General Federation of Koreans Residing in Japan (Chosen Soren), but also failed there to receive the support he sought. [redacted] finally contacted Beheiren, but Beheiren too, replied that it was not in a position to arrange his escape from Japan and advised him to return to the Cuban Embassy. He did so, but shortly thereafter recontacted Beheiren, which then made a concentrated effort to help, asking Soviet Embassy officials to arrange [redacted] passage on the Soviet vessel [redacted]. The Soviets reportedly declined, saying it was too dangerous to repeat the use of this escape route. The Soviet officials indicated that the USSR would welcome and assist the onward journey of any American deserters, including [redacted] whom Beheiren helped to reach the USSR, but that the USSR itself could not at that time assist in providing the transportation out of Japan. [redacted] was somehow able to make arrangements in January, 1968, for [redacted] escape from Japan on a non-Soviet vessel, reportedly by paying bribe money (S)

CLERGY AND LAYMEN CONCERNED
ABOUT VIETNAM;

PAUL LEONARD JACOBS

According to Release #74C.3268

A source has advised a delegation sponsored by the Clergy and Laymen Concerned About Vietnam left New York City on October 25, 1968 for Paris, France and Stockholm, Sweden. The purpose of the trip is to help deserters in Paris, France and Stockholm, Sweden. Paul Jacobs of San Francisco, California, was a member of this delegation.

Paul Leonard Jacobs on a Security Investigation Data for Sensitive Position Form dated October 19, 1961, furnished the following information:

"A recital of my political history since 1934 may be of assistance in evaluating the statements about me.

"Early in that year, at the age of sixteen, I joined the Young Communist League. I joined that organization because I believed it offered a solution to the problem faced by America at the time. I was expelled from the Young Communist League six months after I joined it on charges of refusal to accept discipline and disruptive activity. The 'disruptive activity' consisted of asking critical questions concerning the Communist Party line.

"Following my expulsion from the Young Communist League, I joined the Spartacus Youth League and later the Workers' Party, Trotskyist organizations. Between 1936 and 1940 I was a member of the Workers' Party, the Revolutionary Workers League, the Socialist Party, and finally, of the League for a Revolutionary Workers Party. Although there were many differences between these groups, they all had a common denominator, bitter opposition to the Communist Party. By 1940, I was no longer a Marxist nor a believer in revolutionary action as a solution to the world's problems. Throughout this period I participated in anti-Communist activity of all kinds in every organization of which I was a member.

"In 1941, I was employed as an organizer by the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union, a strongly anti-Communist union. I continued in their employment until late in 1942, when it was necessary for me to come to California. In May 1943, I was drafted into the United States Army Air Corps and was honorably discharged in February, 1946.

"Following my discharge, I was the co-editor and co-publisher of a weekly labor paper in Fort Wayne, Indiana. The first issue of that paper carried an editorial denouncing totalitarianism of the Communist variety. Subsequent issues of the paper continued to attack the Communists. In fact, these very attacks were one of the causes of the paper's failure, since the dominant union in Fort Wayne was a Communist-dominated one whose leaders bitterly fought against the paper. While in Fort Wayne I also fought attempted Communist penetration in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

"I left Fort Wayne in the fall of 1948 for New York City where I was employed as Assistant Director of the Labor Division of the American Jewish Committee, one of the most forthright anti-Communist groups in the Jewish community relations field. While I was with the American Jewish Committee, I helped organize an anti-Communist caucus in the United Office and Professional Workers of America (UOPWA), a Communist-dominated union which represented the AJC's employees.

"I was the first chairman of the anti-Communist caucus in UOPWA in New York and participated in the formation of a national anti-Communist caucus in that union, making trips to various parts of the country in that capacity. I was a frequent anti-Communist speaker at union meetings and a floor leader of the anti-Communist caucus at the union's national convention. The group I helped organize within the union later split from it and became the official C.I.O. union in that field. During this period I also participated in the fight against the Communists within the American Veterans Committee and in the Nyack, New York branch of the N.A.A.C.P.

"I returned to California in 1948, still employed by the American Jewish Committee, and became immediately involved in a bitter anti-Communist struggle within the Jewish Community Council of Los Angeles. I lectured on the nature of the Communist Party, prepared materials on the problem and participated in the trial and expulsion of Communist groups from the Council. In 1949 I went on the staff of the Oil Workers International Union, CIO. My assignment was educational work plus contract negotiations and the servicing of local unions. I actively participated in the struggle against the Communists within the Los Angeles and California CIO councils. I was chairman of the Rules Committee at the convention which broke the Communist control of the Los Angeles CIO council, a floor-leader of the anti-Communist group, and made one of the major anti-CP speeches at that convention.

"At the request of the national CIO office, I prepared a documentary case against the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union for the trial of that union held by the C.I.O. I participated in the trial and wrote the report of the committee which recommended expulsion of the I.L.W.U. from the C.I.O. That report was subsequently issued as an official document by a Subcommittee on Labor of the United States Senate.

"I left the Oil Workers International Union in 1951, and since that time have continued my anti-Communist activities in every organization with which I have been affiliated. As a consultant to unions and other community groups, and as a writer with articles published in the New Leader, The Reporter, Commonweal and the Economist, my anti-Communist political views are generally and widely known. I have taught frequent classes on the nature of the Communist Party and supplied trade union background for an anti-Communist book commissioned by the United States Air Force. I have been repeatedly attacked in the Communist press."

The Young Communist League, Workers Party and Revolutionary Workers League have been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

In November, 1961, the Internal Security Division of the Department of Justice, advised that material had been mailed to the President urging clemency for Morton Sobell. According to this source and included in this material, was a form letter dated August, 1960. This letter was put out by the Sobell Appeal, Box 343, Madison Square Station, New York, New York, and contains the signature, Paul Jacobs, 2380 Vallejo Street, San Francisco, California. The letter states:

"We concur in the plea for Morton Sobell's freedom, and call upon our fellow-citizens to help. It is urgent that the voice of the public be heard in Washington, D.C. during the coming months to encourage Sobell's release during the

"I would like to be included among those asking the President of the U.S. to commute the 30-year sentence of Morton Sobell to time served, now 10 years."

A characterization of the Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell is appended hereto.

Frank M. Jordan, Secretary of State, State of California, on October 28, 1968, advised Paul Jacobs, 2500 Filbert Street, San Francisco, California 94123, was a candidate for the United States Senate on the Peace and Freedom Party ticket in the general election to be held November 5, 1968.

The Peace and Freedom Party is an anti-Vietnam war political party which obtained sufficient signatures to be placed on the ballot in California for the general election held in November, 1968.

The records of the United States State Department, Passport Office, San Francisco, California, contained no information concerning Paul Leonard Jacobs.

("Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications", dated December 1, 1961, issued by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, Page 116.)

In September, 1954, the name "National Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell" appeared on literature issued by the Committee. INFORMATION CONCERNING -- INTERNAL SECURITY

The following information was furnished on November 1, 1968, by a source who has furnished reliable information in the past.

On October 24, 1968, a group of clergymen and laymen concerned about Viet Nam left the United States by Air France at 7:00 p.m. en route to Paris. This group arrived in Paris early on the morning of October 25, 1968, and checked in at the Hotel du Quai Voltaire. On October 25, this group met with deserters and resisters who fled to France. On the evening of October 25, 1968, the group attended a reception which was sponsored by the Viet Nam Peace Committee, identified by the source as a Socialist oriented group in Paris.

On the morning of October 26, 1968, several members of the group met with D. R. V., The Press Secretary. This group represents North Viet Nam at the peace talks in Paris. In the afternoon, another delegation from the group met with members of the National Liberation Front (NLF). The group that met with the D. R. V. were briefed about peace talks which are pending in Paris. The group that met with the NLF had a long discussion about the Viet Nam war. This group contended that there were no Communists in the NLF. They also stated that they would accept a coalition government in Viet Nam, but felt that they could not work with South Vietnamese leaders THIEU and KY since THIEU and KY are American puppets. The individuals representing the NLF also stated they had the upper hand in the Viet Nam war and that there were no major differences with them and with the North Viet Nam government. They stated the United States would have to do more than the stopping of the bombing to bring about peace.

Following this, the individuals in the group then visited with friends in the city and had supper with individuals representing the Union of Draft Resisters and Deserters.

On October 27, 1968, at 11:00 a.m. the group left Paris for Stockholm, Sweden. The plane stopped en route in Copenhagen, Denmark and arrived at Stockholm at 2:30 p.m. The group was met at the airport by the American Deserter Committee and were taken directly to an auditorium for a meeting in which a number of people made speeches. People who spoke were both deserters and members of the traveling group. Following this the group had dinner and then they went to the homes of their hosts, with whom they would live while in Stockholm. In some instances, the hosts were prominent Swedes and in other instances were American deserters and draft resisters.

On October 28, 1968, this group met with the American Deserters Committee. The source stated that there is a total estimate of 169 American deserters in Stockholm at the present time. At this meeting they had a tea, reception, and a discussion. It was attended by the members of the group and some of the deserters and Swedish individuals who were interested in the deserter movement. On the evening of October 28, 1968, several of the delegation visited with Swedish church officials.

On October 29, 1968, the delegation met at the office of the American Deserters Committee and participated in a working session where they discussed the welfare of the deserters. The discussion centered around the deserters' well being, his family, and whether or not he wished to return to the United States.

On October 30, 1968, the delegation went to see the Minister of the Interior and the Aliens Commission of Sweden. This group thanked the Swedish government for the way the deserters had been received and for the granting of humanitarian asylum. They discussed generally the problems of the deserters, their language inability, and the acquisition of work permits.

Following this the group then left for New York.

STUDENT NONVIOLENT COORDINATING COMMITTEE

The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), headquartered at 360 - 362 Nelson Street, S. W., Atlanta, Georgia, is a nonmembership organization, which was born out of the sit-in movement that erupted across the South beginning in 1960.

Today SNCC identifies itself as an organization in the revolutionary vanguard. It advocates that to be successful it is necessary to develop a revolutionary ideology and revolutionary program.

According to SNCC the year 1967 marked a historic milestone in the struggle for the liberation of black people in the United States and the year that revolutionaries throughout the world began to understand more fully the impact of the black movement. SNCC declared that "liberation will come only when there is final destruction of this mad octopus -- the capitalistic system of the United States with all its life-sucking tentacles of exploitation and racism that choke the people of Africa, Asia, and Latin America. The realities of black life, together with the recognition instilled in SNCC workers forced its members to further popularize the legitimacy of self-defense and rebellions when oppression became too great."

From May, 1966, until May, 1967, Stokely Carmichael was National Chairman of SNCC. As of July, 1968, Carmichael resided in Washington, D. C., where he was affiliated with SNCC and active as temporary chairman of a black coalition group. In May, 1967, Carmichael [REDACTED]

In June, 1968, at the Staff and Central Committee meeting of SNCC held in Atlanta, Georgia, it was decided to restructure the organization by equalization of responsibility by creating ten deputy or vice chairmanships. The primary purpose for this change is to take law enforcement pressure off any single individual.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam, and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left" which the Party has "going for us." At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anticommunist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966, issue of "New Left Notes," the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of July 24, 1968, was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

STUDENT NONVIOLENT COORDINATING COMMITTEE

The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), headquartered at 360-362 Nelson Street, S.W., Atlanta, Georgia, is a nonmembership organization, which was born out of the sit-in movement that erupted across the South beginning in 1960.

Today SNCC identifies itself as an organization in the revolutionary vanguard. It advocates that to be successful it is necessary to develop a revolutionary ideology and revolutionary program.

According to SNCC the year 1967 marked a historic milestone in the struggle for the liberation of black people in the United States and the year that revolutionaries throughout the world began to understand more fully the impact of the black movement. SNCC declared that "liberation will come only when there is final destruction of this mad octopus--the capitalistic system of the United States with all its life-sucking tentacles of exploitation and racism that choke the people of Africa, Asia, and Latin America. The realities of black life, together with the recognition instilled in SNCC workers forced its members to further popularize the legitimacy of self-defense and rebellions when oppression became too great."

b7c

In June, 1968, at the Staff and Central Committee meeting of SNCC held in Atlanta, Georgia, it was decided to restructure the organization by equalization of responsibility by creating ten deputy or vice chairmanships. The primary purpose for this change is to take law enforcement pressure off any single individual.

IN THE NAME OF AMERICA

With contributions by Seymour Melman and Richard Falk

*With commentary by: Bishop Ralph
T. Abner • Dr. John F. Kennedy*

David Schoenbrun says of this book:

This report of what has been done "In the Name of America" discloses an American crisis and issues that must be faced by every responsible citizen. . . .

The heart of the matter is this: Are we prepared to become lawless ourselves because law-abidingness and moral constraint have been abandoned by others? Do war crimes committed by any adversary justify the violation of the same laws of war by our own people?

Any compromise on these issues risks the destruction of the principles upon which our society has been built.

IN THE NAME OF AMERICA

The cumulative impact of these hundreds of on-the-spot reports of U.S. operations in South Vietnam, by American newsmen and other eye-witnesses, is devastating! In this carefully-researched 432-page study the reader may compare for himself the erosion of moral constraint in our armed forces with our responsibilities under the international conventions which place clear limits on the weapons and techniques belligerents may use.

The reader will be forced to ask: Does "military necessity" justify torture—the use of gas—retaliation against innocent civilians? Are acts which we have said were war crimes when prosecuting a defeated enemy, to be excused when committed by our own men? What is the citizen's responsibility for the terror and destruction wrought "in the name of America"?

As religious leaders of all faiths point out in their introductory Commentary, NEITHER OUR POLICY-MAKERS NOR THE AMERICAN PEOPLE MAY PASS OVER THIS REPORT IN SILENCE!

Dear Friend:

While the Vietnam war continues to weigh heavy on the conscience of millions around the world, the political situation in our own country -- at least at this point -- appears bleak. It is clear that the Vietnam war will not be terminated, by any necessary logic, ~~because of the new administration.~~

This, then, is no time to relax. Our National Committee has, during the past nine months, continued in its efforts to gain more support for an American withdrawal from Southeast Asia. When President Johnson announced his "peace intentions" on March 31, we were not fooled or lulled into a period of silence.

Enclosed you will find a pamphlet which indicates, in summary fashion, the thrust of our work over the past several months. Of particular importance, from our perspective, has been the development and funding of more than twenty field staff. Our field staff are located in major metropolitan areas throughout the country and work on stipends that range between $750 and $4000 per year.

We intend, with your help, to continue our peace offensive. With your financial support we will persevere until the day when the United States government is finally deflected from its abortive and immoral venture in Vietnam. Send your gift today and make it as large as possible.

Sincerely yours,

Richard R. Fernandez
Director

P.S. For every contribution of $10 or more, we will send you, free, a copy of our study of American participation in the Vietnam war, In the Name of America. (Please see the enclosed description.)

WE SHALL OVERCOME

Considering the above and the present political climate, where do we move from here? At the outset we believe it is mandatory to continue to increase in number and in strength, organizing in local communities all over the country. It is quite clear that as it becomes more difficult to create actions at a national level that will have significant grass roots potential, we need to more and more concentrate our efforts on expanding our work through the hiring of part-time and full-time workers in major metropolitan areas across the country. To organize within the religious community is not enough.

It also seems imperative that we begin to move in new directions. Initially, we now pledge ourselves to become more actively involved with young men who are already in military service. Specifically, we will try to encourage in the months ahead the establishing of coffee houses near US military installations by local clergy and lay groups. At this particular time we are assuming the responsibility for working closely, and assisting in every way possible those half dozen coffee houses that already exist near such military installations as Fort Jackson in South Carolina, Fort Lewis in Washington, and Fort Hood in Texas.

Just as young men in military uniform are more and more finding it impossible to fight in Vietnam we will continue our work with those young men who have refused to enter military service for the same reasons. The plight of young men of draft age forced to resist illegitimate authority will be a major ongoing concern of our National Committee. Specifically, we intend to encourage in every way possible visits to draft resisters in prisons throughout the country. We also will make every effort to have leading church and synagogue leaders place themselves in situations where they are in fact supporting young men of conscience who refuse to be inducted into the armed forces. It should also be pointed out that on a day by day basis many of our local organizers are deeply involved on a grass roots level on this issue in a way in which it is virtually impossible for our national committee to be involved.

Projected for the future and early spring are a series of public forums on Vietnam to be held in medium size towns and cities throughout the country in which we hope to build a very significant action component. These forums will not, we hope, be comprised simply of peace movement people talking to themselves. In Washington, D.C., sometime in mid-winter we will probably have our third National Mobilization to make it clear to the new administration that the Vietnam war must be stopped, our national priorities re-adjusted, and American interventionism permanently curtailed.

We mailed a copy of "Who's Right? Who's Wrong on Vietnam?" to each resident in the state of New Hampshire, and the cost for this enterprise was $31,000.

As a National Committee we believe that Dr. Martin Luther King, speaking on behalf of our Committee at Riverside Church on April 4, 1967, was correct in his assessment that we need a revolution of values in this country. We need to remind ourselves continually that revolution is a long-term affair.

The young accomplished more in 1968 than anyone could have predicted. The fact that in 1968 many of us experienced frustrations, both political and moral at many levels, reminds us that miracles are not often granted, and that revolutions usually demand many long marches, many defeats, and many dry seasons before they yield success. We pledge ourselves anew, with your help, to work for the termination of the war in Vietnam. Send your contribution today and enable us to complete the task we have begun.

Our national staff salaries which include: two full-time secretaries, a fund-raising consultant, a director, and anywhere from two to four seminary field workers, as well as periodic part-time workers, comes to $33,000 per year.

WE PERSEVERED

No peace organization can talk about "success" while the Vietnam conflict continues unabated. What follows, then, is a report on the work of Clergy and Laymen Concerned About Vietnam during 1968 and some of the projected plans that we have for the months ahead.

In February 1968 our National Committee released In the Name of America (sold 27,000 copies to date) immediately prior to our National Mobilization in Washington, D.C., on the 5th and 6th of that month. The book was given to every congressman by persons attending the mobilization. For the benefit of some 2500 clergy and laymen who attended the mobilization a critique of the volume was presented by: Dr. John C. Bennett, our national co-chairman; Fr. Robert Drinan SJ, Dean of the Boston College Law School; and Professor Seymour Melman, a member of our Steering Committee, professor at Columbia University and a prime mover in bringing the concept of the book to fruition.

While in Washington for the mobilization, visits were held with senators and representatives. The late Dr. Martin Luther King, along with Rabbi Abraham Heschel, Bishop James P. Shannon, and Rabbi Maurice Eisendrath led participants in a silent worship service at Arlington Memorial Cemetery.

No more important work has been done by our National Committee than through the services of more than 20 "organizers" we have hired in the last six or seven months. In major metropolitan areas throughout the country (working for modest stipends) organizers have helped redouble the efforts of our National Committee by work in local communities. This program will be expanded in the coming months.

In this "political year" our Committee has placed strong priority on making sure that peace, as a nonpartisan issue, continues to be injected into the political arena. It is for this reason that we sent a 14-page black and white brochure, "Who's Right? Who's Wrong on Vietnam?" into several primary states. While this particular document was not intended to influence voters for a particular candidate, it was intended, in a quite pointed way, to make all voters think seriously about the issues of war and peace and particularly of the war in Vietnam. We sent out more than two and a half million copies of this document across the nation.

At the time of Dr. Martin Luther King's assassination our National Committee called for a week of fasting and prayer. Services were held in churches throughout the country, and in many communities offerings were collected for Vietnam relief.

Midland, Michigan was the scene of a protest demonstration of more than 500 persons planned by our National Committee. The occasion was the annual stockholders' meeting of the Dow Chemical Company on May 8. Several persons, representing our organization, were able to enter the stockholders' meeting and hold what was probably the first "Vietnam teach-in" before a major American corporation. The protest was reported on major network news, and we had a long discussion with the Board Chairman and the President of the Dow Corporation while in Midland.

Mr. Barry Johnson, until seven months ago an administrative assistant to our National Committee and presently a member of our Steering Committee, reported for induction at the Whitehall induction center in New York City on July

One mailing to our members, totaling 22,000, costs $2,400—and we send out 10 per year!

2. Mr. Johnson, in an action co-ordinated by our Committee in cooperation with the New York Resistance and the New York area Women Strike for Peace, presented himself chained to his wife Carol (Carol was holding their two-week-old child, Luke), Rabbi Balfour Brickner, Rev. George W. Webber, Rev. Richard Neuhaus, Mrs. Robert C. Ransom, Mrs. Irma Zigas, Mr. Mark Lundeen, and Rev. Richard Fernandez. In chaining members of our National Committee to Mr. Johnson, we were in fact attempting to show our solidarity with Mr. Johnson and other young men of conscience who have found the war in Vietnam to be a tragedy in which they can not participate. Mr. Johnson, as of this date, has not heard again from his draft board!

During the second week of July, David Schoenbrun, former CBS correspondent and Vietnam expert, consented to make a film for the use of our National Committee under the direction of American Documentary Films. The 45-minute black and white film basically underlines the futile American course in the Paris talks. Mr. Schoenbrun, articulate, witty and above all familiar with his subject, has made an eloquent statement in this film, and presently clergy and lay groups across the country are buying it at a fast rate.

During the Democratic Convention our National Committee held seminars on politics and change in Chicago for clergy and laymen who came into that city from throughout the country. Also, during the week, more than 1400 people crowded into Rockefeller Chapel at the University of Chicago to "experience" the "Civil War Folk Rock Cantata," a multimedia performance put on by a Chicago theater group. In addition to the above activities, several members of our Committee were actually delegates to the Democratic Convention, and others, participating in the nonviolent demonstrations in that city, were maced, gassed, and some imprisoned.

Late in August and now through the fall we have begun to circulate an amnesty petition for those who are presently imprisoned, have deserted the armed forces, or have emigrated to Canada. This petition, already signed by thousands of Americans, will be presented to the newly elected President of the United States in January. We believe that this amnesty petition allows people to talk about the war, the draft, and men who are caught within the present military-draft system, in a new and creative way. We are also hopeful that this particular petition will pave the way for amnesty for many men who are presently either in jail or are not able to return to the country at this time.

At the present time we support 21 field workers in metropolitan areas across the country. The total yearly cost of this kind of grass roots support, including one staff conference, runs to about $68,000.

The "Philadelphia Inquirer" of May 26, 1967, noted that [redacted] had just been named by the Episcopal Bishop of Pennsylvania as a "free lance minister in the deprived areas of the city." The article reflected that [redacted] was an outspoken critic of the war in Vietnam and while recotr of a church in Detroit for the past four years, had been in the national spotlight several times for work in the peace movement and in civil rights. U

While in Detroit, he had a role in establishing a draft counseling service for men wishing to avoid military service; he also received national publicity for aiding students at a predominantly Negro school during a month-long boycott. U

The October 17, 1967, issue of the "Philadelphia Inquirer" under the caption, "26 Defy Draft Here" reflected that on October 16, 1967, 26 young men publicly defied the draft, four by burning their draft cards and one by burning an induction notice, at a rally at Independence Hall, Philadelphia, Pa. The article also stated that [redacted] involved in draft counseling since 1965, said that in the past he had advocated seeking deferments without violating the law but he now advocated open violation of the statute. [redacted] admitted making himself an accomplice in the violations by collecting draft cards from 21 young men and mailing them back to Washington. U

The rally was sponsored by the Philadelphia Anti-Draft Union (PADU) and went beyond protest to non-compliance with the draft system. U

On November 20, 1967, a source advised that the Philadelphia Anti-Draft Union is a draft counseling and anti-Vietnam activity of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) formed in Philadelphia, Pa., as a result of specific instructions outlined at the SDS Convention in Ann Arbor, Mich., in June 1967 ordering that draft resistance unions be formed throughout the United States. U

The same source advised February 26 and 29, 1968, that PADU for all practical purposes is defunct. Most PADU members feel anti-draft activity and draft resistance work is ineffective and offers no real alternatives. Activity such as that on December 6, 1967, when 70 odd people were arrested, helped the government in the long run and alienates the public. U

On October 23, 1967, a review of Voters Registration records reflected that [redacted] was born [redacted]. He was described as a white male, 6'3" tall, blue eyes, brown hair, and priest by profession. U

On October 21, 1967, a massive demonstration was held in Washington, D.C. by the National Committee to End the War in Vietnam to protest the war in Vietnam. This activity culminated with a march on the Pentagon and picketing there which continued until shortly after midnight on October 23, 1967. During this activity more than 675 individuals were arrested at the Pentagon by U.S. Marshals for failure to move and for crossing a police line. U

The source stated that [] is the head of this organization and he proposed to reserve 25 rooms at a local motel for the attending delegates.

A fourth source advised on July 24, 1968, that at a session of the NBAWADU held on July 20, 1968, in Atlanta, [] stated he hoped to organize a National Advisory Committee across the south to assist draft resisters. This source stated that at a session on July 21, 1968, [] explained to the delegates that young people should not be told to resist the draft or to burn their draft cards as that would leave them open for the possibility of Federal prosecution. He stated that the workers should merely tell the young people of the alternatives of the draft which is jail. He stated that the richer young Negroes and those involved in college programs are able to go to Canada to avoid the draft. He stated that the poor Negroes could also go to Canada, but that they will need funds which can be raised by the NBAWADU in the various regions. He also stated that the organization would not be able to tell these people that money is available for them to go to Canada as that would also border all the possibilities of Federal prosecution against them, and the organization.

[] also explained that in Georgia, many of the 18 and 19 year old Negroes are purposely getting felony records by smoking Marijuana for the purpose of avoiding induction in the military service. [] stated that these alternatives must be injected into the minds of the young people without openly advocating such alternatives to protect the organization from prosecution.

STUDENT NONVIOLENT COORDINATING COMMITTEE

The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), headquartered at 360 - 362 Nelson Street, S. W., Atlanta, Georgia, is a nonmembership organization, which was born out of the sit-in movement that erupted across the South beginning in 1960.

Today SNCC identifies itself as an organization in the revolutionary vanguard. It advocates that to be successful it is necessary to develop a revolutionary ideology and revolutionary program.

According to SNCC the year 1967 marked a historic milestone in the struggle for the liberation of black people in the United States and the year that revolutionaries throughout the world began to understand more fully the impact of the black movement. SNCC declared that "liberation will come only when there is final destruction of this mad octopus -- the capitalistic system of the United States with all its life-sucking tentacles of exploitation and racism that choke the people of Africa, Asia, and Latin America. The realities of black life, together with the recognition instilled in SNCC workers forced its members to further popularize the legitimacy of self-defense and rebellions when oppression became too great."

From May, 1966, until May, 1967, Stokely Carmichael was National Chairman of SNCC. As of July, 1968, Carmichael resided in Washington, D. C., where he was affiliated with SNCC and active as temporary chairman of a black coalition group. In May, 1967, Carmichael

In June, 1968, at the Staff and Central Committee meeting of SNCC held in Atlanta, Georgia, it was decided to restructure the organization by equalization of responsibility by creating ten deputy or vice chairmanships. NATIONAL BLACK ANTI-WAR ANTI-DRAFT
UNION (NBAWADU)

On February 5, 1968, a first source advised during the January 27 through 29, 1968 Student Mobilization Committee (SMC)-sponsored National Anti-War conference in Chicago, Illinois, a "black caucus" was held. [REDACTED] of the New York Office of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) announced the Black Caucus had formed a National Black Anti-War Anti-Draft Union (NBAWADU) which would closely cooperate with the SMC.

On March 22, 1968, a second source advised the national headquarters of NBAWADU is located within the New York Office of SNCC at 100 Fifth Avenue, New York City (NYC). Source further advised NBAWADU is a SNCC-dominated organization and only Negroes may become members.

A printed and published statement by NBAWADU in the form of a position paper states the basic aims and purpose of NBAWADU are to initiate and/or support anti-war and anti-draft movements and to afford draft counseling to those who wish to resist the draft.

On April 12, 1968, a third source advised NBAWADU has appointed regional leaders in major urban cities throughout the United States. Source further advised NBAWADU has held one national meeting at the Diplomat Hotel, New York City, on April 12-14, 1968.

A characterization of the SNCC is set out separately.

STUDENT NONVIOLENT COORDINATING COMMITTEE

The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), headquartered at 360-362 Nelson Street, S.W., Atlanta, Georgia, is a nonmembership organization, which was born out of the sit-in movement that erupted across the South beginning in 1960.

Today SNCC identifies itself as an organization in the revolutionary vanguard. It advocates that to be successful it is necessary to develop a revolutionary ideology and revolutionary program.

According to SNCC the year 1967 marked a historic milestone in the struggle for the liberation of black people in the United States and the year that revolutionaries throughout the world began to understand more fully the impact of the black movement. SNCC declared that "liberation will come only when there is final destruction of this mad octopus--the capitalistic system of the United States with all its life-sucking tentacles of exploitation and racism that choke the people of Africa, Asia, and Latin America. The realities of black life, together with the recognition instilled in SNCC workers forced its members to further popularize the legitimacy of self-defense and rebellions when oppression became too great."

b7C

From May, 1966, until May, 1967, STOKELY CARMICHAEL was National Chairman of SNCC. As of July, 1968, CARMICHAEL resided in Washington, D.C., where he was affiliated with SNCC and active as temporary chairman of a black coalition group. In May, 1967, CARMICHAEL

In June, 1968, at the Staff and Central Committee meeting of SNCC held in Atlanta, Georgia, it was decided to restructure the organization by equalization of responsibility by creating ten deputy or vice chairmanships. The primary purpose for this change is to take law enforcement pressure off any single individual.

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA (DCA)

A source advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party, USA (CP, USA), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist-oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates were told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19 - 21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time, the name W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America (DCA) was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention.

The second source advised in September, 1966, that [REDACTED] stated that in Negro communities the Party still supported the plan to build "left" socialist centers and to solidify the Party base through the DCA. This source also advised in September, 1966, that [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] stated the Party believes the DCA should have a working class outlook and be a mass organization favorable to socialism, socialist countries and Marxism, and in April, 1967, Gus Hall, CP, USA, General Secretary, indicated that the DCA primary emphasis should be on developing mass resistance to the draft.

A third source advised in September, 1967, that [REDACTED] was elected [REDACTED] on September 10, 1967, near the conclusion of the Third National Convention of the DCA held in New York, New York, from September 8-10, 1967.

A fourth source advised on July 26, 1968, that [REDACTED] continues in his position as [REDACTED]

This fourth source also advised on July 26, 1968, that [REDACTED] is a member of the National Committee of the CP, USA.

This fourth source further advised on July 26, 1968, that the headquarters of the DCA is located at 34 West 17th Street, New York, New York.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam, and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. GUS HALL, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left" which the Party has "going for us". At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anticommunist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966, issue of "New Left Notes", the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some Communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of July 24, 1968, was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

APPENDIX

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam, and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. GUS HALL, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left" which the Party has "going for us." At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anti-communist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966, issue of "New Left Notes", the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of July 24, 1968, was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

ASYLUM IN SWEDEN:

The men who deserted: They feel they're right

By RON LANDSMAN

If Students for a Democratic Society seek recruits, the place not to look is among the deserters and draft resisters in Sweden and France today. Despite the commitment of one of the most political of acts—deserting the U.S. Army because of a war they cannot stand—Americans there who sought "humanitarian asylum" are not the militant anti-war types that a first guess would indicate.

This was one of the thoughts of Prof. Joseph Sax of the Law School who returned yesterday morning from a two-week trip to those two strongholds of American deserters.

Sponsored by Clergy and Laymen Concerned About Vietnam, the trip's purpose was to give known anti-war Americans a chance to contact deserters and, hopefully, to talk about them when they returned.

Like draft dodgers in Toronto, resisters and deserters in Europe are not the typically political type. They are not even the expected urban, middle class liberals who oppose the war so vocally here.

And they are not martyrs. Sax explains, "They do not see themselves as especially noble or especially brave, resisters of the Establishment."

Sax says it is difficult, if not impossible, to define them by ideology or any of the conventional sociological terms—class, education, social status. The underlying common traits—and Sax emphasizes that generalization on this is risky at best—are very individualistic. "a certain sensitivity, an intolerance to things very wrong that they saw around them."

It may have been, he points out, exactly their straight-laced upbringing in the face of what they saw that made them desert. "Most of them were raised on 'God, country and apple pie,'" Sax says. "And, believing that, they were particularly vulnerable to the shock they received." A more politically sophisticated person would not have been as surprised as they at what they saw, Sax believes.

Although there were no easily-found common denominators of cause, Sax feels he did discern a common route. The first stage was reaction—against the war and suffering, more than against the military—that made them act, often without a great deal of forethought, he notes.

What happened to them after they deserted is the common experience. It was then that they began to think about what they did, and it was then that they became political.

"Their 'politicization' is in the best sense of the word," Sax says. "They are thoughtful about American society and the war, they try to figure out the meaning of what happened. Above all, they are aware."

That awareness, their common trait, brings out a few common reactions. One is the desire to read. "It is part of their attempt to understand what they had done," Sax says. "They are seeking an understanding of what motivated them to desert. Most had not thought that deeply on it before they did it."

And so they became readers, not just the former college students—who by no means are the dominant group—but "even those who probably hadn't read more than one whole book in their entire lives."

But reading certainly isn't all. They have, as well, lives to live, and much has to be done. Few think very much about the distant future, expecting to live in Sweden for some time, but all expecting to return to the United States eventually. But the necessities of life in Sweden don't give them that much time to think of it.

Despite receiving benefits from the government—eighteen dollars a month plus a housing allowance—it is little more than a subsistence allowance and work has to be done.

The governments of France and Sweden are the only two which are open about granting asylum to deserters and resisters—they have about 40 and 150 deserters, respectively. Other European countries (Belgium, Netherlands and Italy) are known to have some deserters, but they allow them only on the condition that they refrain from publicizing their presence. Sweden, on the other hand, despite cordial relations with the United States, is at least decent to the deserters, if not actually encouraging.

Recipients of "humanitarian asylum," the status deserters receive, have complete political freedom in Sweden, but not in France where they are barred from any political activity.

Besides having few common denominators personally, their sources are diverse. There were deserters from all the services, but the Marines seemed to be represented out of proportion to their numbers.

Blacks also seem to be represented well, roughly in proportion to their numbers in the services—about 20 per cent. Sax says they did not seem to have any special difficulties.

Life is not easy in either country. Jobs are hard to find both in Paris and Stockholm, and many of the jobs available are menial.

Language is a problem in both countries, one which the Swedish government is working actively to overcome. It is willing to pay students a stipend, larger than the benefits they would ordinarily receive, for learning the language. "They're encouraging the resisters to become 'productive citizens'," Sax says.

And they are admittedly lonely. "They were really glad to talk to us," Sax says. "They really wanted to know that someone in the States cared about them."

Despite the problems, perhaps or because of them, the deserters and resisters seem to be, psychologically at least, on solid ground.

"I had expected them to be in a kind of stupor," Sax admits, "but there is about them, as a whole, quite a feeling of vitality. They have satisfied themselves, after much thought, that they have done the right thing. It gives them a certain sense of personal security. That's what they have in common."

"War between China and the United States is now a very real possibility. The escalation of hostilities daily increases the likelihood of such a war. A large scale land war with China will be avoided only if we succeed in creating non-military means for the settlement of our differences. We believe that the United States' policy of systematically and deliberately excluding China from the United Nations and other international bodies severely diminishes our chances of finding the path to such a peaceful settlement. We believe that the United States' refusal to recognize China is detrimental not only to the cause of world peace, but to our own national interest. A national debate on our China policy is long overdue. We urgently appeal to all Americans, and especially to Congress, to undertake an open and thorough re-evaluation of our Far Eastern policy, before it is too late."

The October 13, 1965 issue of the "Daily Californian", a student publication at the University of California, Berkeley, California, reported in an article entitled, "New Vietnam Group Forms", that a new group protesting the United States' action in Vietnam was looking for student support. According to the article, Americans For Reappraisal of Far Eastern Policy (ARFEP) was attempting to set up campus meetings across the country for United Nations Day, October 24, 1965. The article also stated in part as follows:

"The Northern California branch of ARFEP hopes to get 'congressional debate started on Far Eastern policy' as a result of the Oct. 24 meetings, according to a spokesman.

"The group maintains that the United States should:

"--institute a cease-fire in Vietnam.

"--announce its readiness to negotiate towards the recognition of Communist China.

"--negotiate towards the admission of Communist China to the U.N.

"--declare its readiness to join China in projects of mutual advantage including the establishment of controls over production and testing of nuclear weapons."

Eighteen persons are found in the picture above.

Together they have two things in common: all are Americans, all are against America's part in the Vietnam War.

Perhaps they have a third matter in common. They can only through posing for the same photograph, one Sunday, in October, in Stockholm, show Sweden how strong our position is in the USA against the War in Vietnam. This opposition cuts through age, class, politics, religions and races in their homeland.

The two on the back row, farthest right, are young American deserters. The remaining sixteen are Americans, who have gathered in order to make a six day journey in Europe, in order to contact the deserters. The journey is made of their own free will and in their free time. They are planning to gather as many facts as they can on the youths - why they deserted, how they are getting along, and what help can be given them so they can return home.

Backing the sixteen man group is an organization named Clergy and Laymen Concerned Over Vietnam, an organization that can, accordingly, run away (influence) with many consciences. This organization, that has 23,000 members in the USA, is taking its turn to travel in place of a group with a more purposeful name, namely, the National Mobilization for Stopping the War in Vietnam.

The trip to Stockholm and Paris, where the group has also visited, will, the group hopes, furnish material for a large attack against the War in Vietnam; an attack to begin in the days prior to the presidential election in America. The group which in the next two days not only listen to the American deserters in Sweden, but also contact the government (Swedish).

The clearest thing that can be said on the growing mass of opposition to the War in Vietnam is a simple enumeration of their names. An account of this unusual but perhaps contemporary American travel group to Sweden follows:

1. FRANZ SCHURMAN, Professor in Sociology at the University of California at Berkeley. An expert on China, he has written four books on the Chinese People's Republic. He has visited North Vietnam and Cuba.

2. PAUL JACOBS; has been a teacher at the University of California at Berkeley and a co-worker in the New Radical (translators note: probably means New Left). He was a candidate for the Senate for a party named The Peace and Freedom Party.

3. JOHN COGLEY; formerly a journalist with the New York Times and Chief Editor of "Commonwealth" magazine. He is now with the Ford Foundation and the center is the study of democratic institutions.

U.S.

Calif.
4. MICHAEL NOVAC; Theologian and Catholic Priest; formerly a teacher at Stanford University. He is now with the State University of New York. He is an author whose works have been translated to Swedish. Last year he was in Vietnam to study the aid program there.

5. RICHARD MEUHAUS; is a Priest in the Evangelistic Congregation in New York. He was a delegate to the Democratic Convention this year. DIL

6. EDWIN JANSS; Chairman in Janss Investment Company, in Detroit, Michigan. Involved in a Businessmen's Opposition Movement for Peace in Vietnam.

7. GRACE FALEY; novelist and essayist. She is a teacher at Sarah Lawrence College and a member of the Central Committee for Resist (translators note: meaning of this word not known). The well-known linguist NOAM CHOMSKY is the Chairman of this movement. CHOMSKY should have come, but he is presently ill. N.Y.

8. MARJORIE DUNN; from Desmoine, Iowa. She is the mother of one of the deserters in Stockholm.

9. GEOFFREY SHARLET; is the editor of the "Vietnam GI", a periodical with 65,000 copy distribution that is given to the American soldiers in Vietnam. He is a veteran of Vietnam. U.S.

10. HOWARD MOORE; lawyer from Atlanta, Ga. He is a worker in Civil Rights and has defended the Negro leader RAP BROWN in court.

11. JOHN WILSON; is a member of the SNCC Central Committee, Vice-Chairman in the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam, and a leader in the Negro movement for refusal of military service (translators note: this could be a proper name). U.S.

12. CHARLES WEBSTER; lawyer engaged in Civil Rights work in the southern states of America. U.S.

13. HARVEY COX; Theologian and professor at Harvard Divinity School. He is an author and essayist. Mass.

14. MARTIN KENNER; Economist; formerly a journalist with the New York Times and service of the UN. He is now in "Students for a Democratic Society". He is the groups tour leader.

15. DAVID GRACIE; priest. He is an active ecumenical worker and also peace worker. U.S.

16. JOSEPH SAX; Professor at the University of Michigan. He reported the trial of the pediatrician BENJAMIN SPOCK. He analysed in a series of articles the "illegal" American Civil Rights Movement.

17. BILL JONES; Chairman of the American Deserters Organization in Sweden. U.S.

18. MARK SHAPIRO; member of the board of the American Deserters Organization.

"The Government has Changed Unkindly Disposition Toward US Deserters"

"The Swedish Government has completely changed its attitude towards the American deserters, who have come to Sweden in order that they will not have to participate in the Vietnam War. They no longer received prolonged (lengthened) political asylum.

The deserters are met with hostility from different authors and are urged by some public servants to return to the USA," said SARAH LINDMAN and BILL JONES, from the American Deserters Committee, in a conference at the Public Meeting Hall in Stockholm, on Sunday.

Sweden
BILL JONES declared that after the election a noticeable change had occurred in the Swedish Government's attitude toward the approximately 200 American deserters who are now studying in Sweden. "The same government that before the elction prided itself that it had an understanding of the deserters situation, is now attempting to get us to leave the country," said BILL JONES. "The authorities are working against us in every way. They do not have time to handle our applications, and at the same time, they exhort us to be aware of our behavior.

SARAH LINDMAN referred to an utterance HERBERT DE BESCHE, Sweden's ambassador in the United States, is supposed to have made in Houston, Texas, on September 24. He is supposed to have said that the Swedish people were troubled over the American deserters presence in Sweden and hoped they would move to another country.

Such an opinion is shared by a modest minority in our country thought SARAH LINDMAN. She is of the opinion that the remark was a gross slander of the Swedish people.

Receive No Asylum

"The opposition that the deserters are now receiving from official quarters makes one ask himself if DE BESCHE's remarks really were a slip of the tongue and not a note from the ambassador's superiors," she continued.

The deserters apply for political asylum, but they do not get it. A public servant in the Foreigner Commission (immigration) made the comment "these boys are so young - they cannot be mature enough to take such a large step; however, asking for political asylum". Their own authorities think they are grown enough to drop napalm on Vietnamese cities.

"-For a time, the authorities let the American deserters have three months residence and work privileges," continued SARAH LINDMAN, "but when the deserters attempt to extend this status the authorities did not have time to process their applications."

"-The Foreigners Commission (immigration) must now openly answer the question why the deserters cannot obtain political asylum. They must openly show the reason residence and work permits are not renewed. They must also explain why certain public servants in different positions attempt to talk the deserters into returning to their units."

BILL JONES says that the situation has completely changed for the deserters. JONES and many of their country men are residing in Sweden without current resident permits. If one does not have a resident permit it is impossible to get work. The deserters receiving 86 crowns a week from the authorities, but it is very difficult to make ends meet on such a small amount (editors note: 86 Swedish crowns would be worth approximately $23 US dollars). When the money will not buy food, there is always the temptation to pilfer a bit of bread or cheese in a serve yourself market. If a deserter is then arrested, he risks prosecution and expulsion from the country.

"-The authorities must realize that the deserters must find something concrete today," believes BILL JONES. "Very few people can manage psychologically if they go around unemployed. Give us work so that we can earn a tollerable existance."

The conference at the Meeting House, that was organized by the American Deserters Committee, had several well-known Americans present.

Professor HARVEY COX said that the delegation was home for two reasons. First they went to visit their country men who would not, in keeping with their consciences, take part in the Vietnam War, who chose instead to desert and flee to a foreign country. Second, that would thank the Swedish people for taking the deserters end. HARVEY COX thanked, also, the Swedish Government for not expelling the deserters and giving some of them a chance to work and study in Sweden.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. GUS HALL, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left" which the Party has "going for us." At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anti-communist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966, issue of "New Left Notes," the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of July 24, 1968, was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.
